

The Alchemist Grove

Misty Valley

Key words: New beginning, new adventure, intentions, hope, looking forward.

Here we are, on top of the last mountain we had to climb, and if we can barely see the valley below, it's already beautiful, promising.

We take a deep breath, enjoying this time of rest before running towards what is waiting for us. We are in peace, as we have assimilated the lessons of the past, and got rid of what is of no longer use for us.

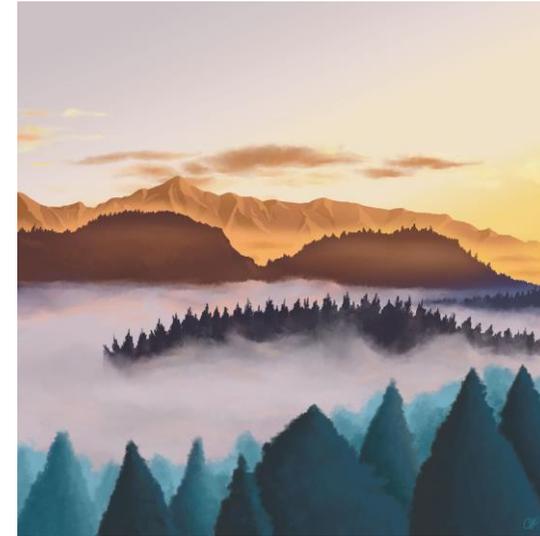

We close our eyes, imagining what may be below the light mist, what is to discover, to enjoy, to learn. We can see that there will be resting points.

We can feel the warmth of the sun rising on our skin, promise of an energetic, hopeful day while the soft soil beneath our feet gives us the anchor we need to keep in touch with the earth.

We smell nature as we enter the grove, the trees, mushrooms, weeds, flowers welcoming us as one of them. The fresh morning air wakes us up fully and gives us the energy to make a step forward a bit later, once we are done enjoying the moment we are experiencing.

We hear birds and crows greeting us a bit further, the soft wind makes trees, branches and foliage whisper their secret as we focus on the song of the river below the hill.

We then open our eyes and feel deep within that time has come to begin our journey.

The Misty Valley offers us a promise of a new beginning, a new adventure. Everything is still to be discovered, everything is possible.

We are about to live something new, and we do it with a lot of hope, or peace. We are confident that we are going to live what needs to be lived to grow, to understand, to discover, to assimilate.

This valley is the map of our journey. Depending on the choice we make, we can walk an easy path, or decide to go for the side roads, the curves, the cliffs. Each path will bring us what we need to learn. And each of them will be ours, fully. Whatever happens, we will reach the next mountains.

Now is time to enjoy the sight and to feel life vibrate within. We are ready to live the next step on our personal path. As we gather what we need to start our journey, we also imagine what is laying there, knowing that it will be unexpected, perfectly fitting our needs and that we will enjoy each step of the process.

We are about to start a new page of our personal story. And we make sure to remember this moment where everything is possible.
